■ Job Fair for International Students

This event was held on Saturday 15th January (10:00-17:00) at My Dome Osaka. The aim of the event was to give international students a chance to meet with companies interested in hiring, and give them advice on working in Japan. Despite it being cold on the day, a total of 1,136 students came along to speak with the 61 companies taking part.

The students were from a great many different countries, and from universities not only in the Kansai region but from all over Japan. OFIX volunteers took part as interpreters, and thanks to their support and the support of all of the organizers the event was a great success. OFIX hopes to hold similar events over the next year too.

[05] International Hall News

■Sakai International House Winter Party!

On December 11, a "Winter Party" was held at Sakai International Hall (Orion International House) to deepen exchange between the dorm residents and local community residents. It was a large, lively party with about 100 participants composed of members from the local neighborhood, the Senior Society, and Japanese university students.

Everyone eagerly listened to the instruction on crime prevention by the North Sakai Police Station Security Division and instruction on disaster prevention by the Sakai City International Division, giving notes on where to take refuge and how to live safely during a disaster.

After enjoying the delicious food and drinks, the Senior Society members led everyone in singing Japanese nursery songs and giving international students the chance to experience Calligraphy writing. Each international student wrote the character of their choice and it was surprising to see that everyone was very good!

The climax of the party was a mini live performance by a special guest. Everyone had a moody, intoxicating time singing Christmas songs and the theme song of Korea's famous drama, "Winter Sonata". Holding the prizes from the big Bingo game, everyone left the International Hall smiling and saying "we really had a great time."

For the dorm residents, the event will surely be a fun Orion International House memory they will remember. To all international students who have come to Japan, would you like to be part of the Orion dormitory? Room applications are at any time at your school's Student Office. We will be waiting for your application.

[06] OFIX Coordinator for International Relations Report

■Farewell for Now!

I am doing my best to hold back the tears as I say for the last time ...Hi everyone, Richard here again! Yes, some readers may already have heard, but after nearly 3 and a half amazing years at OFIX, I will be leaving for pastures new at the end of January. They say that time flies when you're having fun, and that must be the case since September 2007 (when I started work at OFIX), seems like only yesterday. I was a young and fresh faced 27 year old, excited to be finally living in Osaka, a place I had longed to be for a good many years. I still love Osaka, but unfortunately I'm not so young or fresh faced anymore!

My time at OFIX has been rewarding in so many ways, and I doubt a single article could do it justice, but I'll do my best! OFIX saw a number of changes in the 3 years I have been here. Location wise, the office was originally based in Rinku Town, near to Kansai Airport. The view from the 17th floor was fantastic, but I have to be honest, watching all the planes fly off every day just made me long for a holiday!! We moved into Osaka city in March 2009, and although the current office is a good bit smaller than the previous one, the location is that bit more exciting. Being near Namba after work has been a bit detrimental to my finances though!

Over the years I have been involved with so many great programs and projects, but first and foremost the program I have gained most from is the International Understanding Education Program. Through this program I have been able to visit so many schools and international exchange organizations throughout Osaka. It has been a pleasure to tell people a little bit about the UK, and learn much about Japan and Osaka at the same time. I have been all over Osaka Prefecture, from Hirakata, Suita, and Nose in north, to Kishiwada, Izumisano, and Hannan in the south. No matter where it is one thing remains the same, the warmth and hospitality of the people of Osaka, and the interest and enthusiasm for learning about different cultures and ways of life. Of course, being in charge of OFIX News, and having free reign to write random diatribes every month has been rather fun as well!

OFIX places great emphasis on grassroots internationalization, the importance of which is something that my time here has really brought home. True international exchange is not something to be left to politicians and diplomats, it should be undertaken at a local level, by local citizens and volunteers seeking no payment but taking part out of true enthusiasm for international exchange and understanding. OFIX is in a prime position to coordinate such activities, and as such I have felt honored to work here for the past 3 years.

There were times over the last 3 years when the very existence of OFIX was in doubt. The kind of work undertaken by organizations such as OFIX does not provide clear cut tangible results, we can't put the things we do into easy to understand graphs and charts. When pressed for results, we are limited to things such as "well, after a school visit students might decide to travel abroad in the future", or "we hope international students will promote Osaka on returning to their home countries". These things may sound rather wishy-washy and vague, but to me these might and hopes are vital and exciting things to work towards. I truly hope that the coming years will see an increase in those that appreciate this fact.

Meeting and working with so many people dedicated to international exchange has been truly inspirational, and I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone I have had the pleasure to work with. February will see me moving to Tokyo where I will continue to work in the field of international exchange. I hate saying goodbyes, but on this occasion I feel that there is no need. I know I will be back in Osaka often, and am certain I will see a great many of my Osaka friends again. Where these things are concerned no mights are required!
